MINES WILL PLAY AGGIES, FRIDAY

The school of Mines baseball team will journey to Mesilla Park to tackle the New Mexico Aggies on Friday. The Mines will make the trip in auto and are going up with the expectation of "bringing home the bacon."

The Aggies have a very strong team this year and have won all their games thus far and are traveling at a championship clip. Coach "Tommy" Dwyer, of the Mines, has his lanky Mines out for practice every afternoon and so many of the boys are showing such good form it makes it hard for him to pick the right lineup.

In all probability the following will make the trip for the Mines: Captain Nelson, Orl Walker, Harold Walker, J. Leasure, Roman W. Sorrells, T. Dwyer, Camery, Balles, New.

16 MORE GOLF LINKS PLANNED

New York is to Have Large Additions to Playing Area About Metropolis.

New York, May 11.—At the last count 14 new golf courses are projected or under construction on Long Island, within 40 miles of New York. Even more are being outlined. That a few of them will never go beyond the blue prints does not materially help the situation. It now costs two to three times as much to provide links that stand a show of competing with the best as it did 15 years ago. Allowing for one or two courses eliminated by local estate engagements, there is room for only about a half a dozen new ventures, despite the fact that Long Island, with its sandy soil and increasing accessibility, is the most natural golfing ground in the country. Just as the blighting trail of premature real estate boom a dozen years ago swept over much the same expanse, there will be another serious setback for land values, as the courses are scattered between three counties and a dozen towns, the obstacles to concerted action seem insurmountable.

Like the poor, the dub is always with you. How to provide, up to a certain point, for the hopeless effort, enabling him to get exercise, securing his money (as good as any other man's) and keep him happy is a most vexing problem as that of preventing the Simon-pure from becoming contaminated by professionalism. Last season one New York club and another in this city, put in a full complement of short tees in the hope that the clubs and less experienced women players, who constantly complained of strain, would use them. Such executives blinded themselves to the truth that everybody insists upon measuring themselves against the best of everything, not the worst. The spare rows and the whippersnappers have been the only ones ever seeking short tees.
